

DATA HYGIENE MANAGEMENT CONSULTANCY

The Problem

In today's data-driven world, maintaining clean, organised, and secure data is essential for operational efficiency, regulatory compliance, and risk management. Poor data hygiene can lead to inefficiencies, increased risk, and non-compliance, making effective data management more important than ever.

The Solution

The Data Hygiene Management Consultancy service from HANDD Business Solutions (HANDD) offers a comprehensive approach to understanding and optimising your data landscape. We help you identify data types, their locations, associated risks, and who has access, enabling you to implement effective data lifecycle management strategies, ensuring your data remains accurate, secure, and compliant.

How does HANDD's Data Hygiene Management Consultancy Service work?

Our Data Hygiene Management Consultancy Services include:

- A detailed report outlining the types of data your organisation holds, where it resides, who has access, and the associated risks.
- A thorough risk analysis with a prioritised action plan helps you mitigate data security and compliance risks.
- Expert recommendations to improve data access management.
- A customised data classification framework to help you prioritise data based on sensitivity and compliance requirements.
- A comprehensive data lifecycle management strategy.
- A report aligning your data management practices with relevant regulations, identifying gaps and providing solutions for full compliance.
- Assistance in eliminating redundant, obsolete, or trivial (ROT) data to ensure data accuracy and reliability.

Key Features and Benefits:

- Complete data landscape understanding
- Data risk assessment with mitigation plans
- Robust access management practices
- Customised data classification framework
- Comprehensive data lifecycle management strategy
